FOREWORD

The Year Book of the Churches succeeds the Federal Council Year Book and will be issued annually.

The Directory of Religious Bodies includes all denominations recognized by the Federal Census. The Directory of Inter-church Bodies contains three times the number of organizations formerly treated. Most of these bodies publish Year Books with other data of value.

Part II, General Information, is largely given to information connected with the war.

The directories and statistics are official. The statistics concerning Churches and Sunday Schools are reprinted from the United States Census Bureau findings and are offered in comparison with the Census of religious bodies made by the Federal Bureau of the Census ten years ago.

The treatment of the cooperation of the Churches and Inter-Church Bodies officially in the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, is especially significant because the war has increased the necessity of federating religious activities. Books of value in nearly every phase of Christian work, published by the Federal Council, are listed as a bibliography.

The general arrangement will be the same in future volumes as in this one, but it is expected that additional material will be offered in successive issues.

Each division of the book is preceded by a table of the material treated, which, with the table of contents of the book and the complete cross index, will enable the reader to find every topic readily.

Further information will be sent as requested.

Suggestions for improvements that can be made in the 1919 issue are desired.

THE EDITOR.

LITHUANIAN NATIONAL CATHOLIC CHURCH

Address Rev. S. B. Mickiewicz, 156 Garden St., Lawrence, Mass.

LUTHERAN BODIES

There is no ecumenical organization of Lutheran bodies. In Germany the greater number of Lutheran Churches were united with the Reformed Churches in the German Evangelical State Church, the so-called Prussian Alliance. There are, however, several independent Lutheran bodies, such as the Old Lutherans of Prussia.

In the United States the Lutheran bodies are evangelical, but are classed as General Bodies and Independent Synods.

GENERAL BODIES

The General Synod, United Synod, South, and the General Council have a joint committee working toward union.

Purpose of this organization: To provide social and recreational facilities for all soldiers and sailors irrespective of race or creed and to provide for the religious wants of Catholic soldiers. Buildings have been erected in the cantonments and encampments where the men are provided with all possible club conveniences, including stationery and libraries, and where entertainments, including dramatic productions, concerts, lectures, and athletic events are held at frequent intervals. On Sundays these buildings serve as chapels and Catholic services are held at convenient hours. This work will also be duplicated abroad, both in the concentration camps and at the front. The naval training stations are included among the encampments and cantonments.

Chaplaincy Bureau, Washington, D. C., Rev. Lewis J. O'Hern.

STATISTICS OF RELIGIOUS BODIES

The Bureau of the Census has recently completed a compilation of the statistics of religious bodies and Sunday schools in continental United States as of the close of the year 1916. It is reproduced in the following pages. It covers numerous items of inquiry, and the full report, to be published in the near future, will afford comprehensive information regarding more than 200 denominations, and will give, in addition, comparative statistics for 1906 and 1890. The statistics have been collected mainly by correspondence with the local church organizations, for the most part directly by the Bureau of the Census, but for certain denominations through some denominational officer or representative. The following figures, therefore, are based mainly upon actual returns from the individual churches and, although some churches failed to make returns as requested, the figures may be said to represent a substantially complete report. They were prepared under the supervision of Mr. William C. Hunt, chief statistician for population in the Bureau of the Census.

CHURCH ORGANIZATIONS

The term "church organization" includes any organization for religious worship which has a separate membership, whether called a church proper, congregation, meeting, society, mission, station, or chapel, etc.

The total number of church organizations in 1916 was 228,007, as reported by 201 denominations, counting the independent miscellaneous congregations as the equivalent of one denomination. The report for 1906 showed a total of 212,230 organizations as reported by 188 denominations, and that for 1890 a total of 165,151, as reported by 145 denominations.

The difference in the number of denominations in 1916, as compared with 1906, is the net result of the consolidation or dropping out of 16 small denominations and the addition of 29 small denominations, the latter including those actually in existence in 1906, but not then brought to light; those resulting from the consolidation of churches, many of which were reported in 1906 as "independent"; and those resulting from re-organization within existing denominations.

The small increase in the number of church organizations since 1906 is due to a general tendency toward consolidation and conservation rather than expansion, and to shrinkage and disintegration consequent on migration among the poorer and immigrant people, especially in the South and West. The large increase from 1890 to 1906, on the other hand, was due to more thorough investigation and more nearly complete returns in 1906, to heavy immigration, and to a general effort toward denominational expansion.

CHURCH MEMBERS

The term "members" has a variety of uses. In most Protestant bodies it is limited to communicants or confirmed members; in the Roman Catholic, Eastern, and some other churches it includes all baptized persons, while in some bodies it covers enrolled persons.

The whole number of members reported by all religious bodies for 1916 was 42,044,374, as compared with a total for 1906 of 32,936,445, and for 1890 of 20,597,954 members. These figures show an apparent increase in church members since 1906 of 9,107,929, but allowance must be made for the difference in the membership of the Roman Catholic Church, as given for 1916, as compared with the figures used in the reports for 1906 and 1890. The membership of the Roman Catholic Church covers, as above stated, all baptized persons, including infants; but in the reports for 1890 and 1906 a deduction of 15 per cent was made to cover those under nine years of age, as this was understood to be the age at which the first communion is usually taken; but no similar deductions were made for the Eastern and other churches having a similar basis of membership, because of the very much smaller numbers involved. In providing for the present census of religious bodies, however, it was decided, after most careful consideration, to credit each denomination with its total membership, irrespective of the varying conditions of membership, whether of age or otherwise. On this basis of deduction, the total reported membership of the Roman Catholic Church for 1890 (7,343,186) was reduced to 6,241,708, and that for 1906 (14,210,755) to 12,079,142. This made a difference for 1906 of 2,131,613, and, if this deduction had not been made in the report for that year, the total membership of all religious bodies for 1906 would have been 35,068,058, indicating an increase for the ten years from 1906 to 1916 of 6,976,316, or 19.9 per cent. On a similar basis, the total membership of all religious bodies for 1890 would have been 21,699,432, representing an increase for the sixteen years from 1890 to 1906 of 13,368,626, or 61.6 per cent.

Of the separate denominations, the Roman Catholic Church reports the largest membership, namely, 15,742,262, out of a total membership reported by all religious bodies for 1916 of 42,044,374, or 37.4 per cent. Besides the Roman Catholic Church, there are eight other denominations for each of which more than 1,000,000 members were reported in 1916, as follows:

Baptists—Northern Convention.....	1,227,448
Baptists—Southern Convention.....	2,711,591
Baptists—National Convention (Colored)....	3,018,341
Disciples of Christ.....	1,231,404
Methodist Episcopal.....	3,718,396
Methodist Episcopal, South.....	2,108,061
Presbyterians in the U. S. A.....	1,613,056
Protestant Episcopal.....	1,098,173

These eight denominations and the Roman Catholic Church together comprised 32,468,732, or 77.2 per cent of the entire membership reported for all religious bodies in 1916.

The three branches of Baptists together comprised 6,957,380 members, but if all seventeen Baptist bodies are included the total Baptist membership is increased to 7,236,650. Similarly, the two principal Methodist bodies together comprised 5,826,457 members, but if all Methodist bodies, seventeen in number, are included, the total Methodist membership is increased to 7,165,986. The Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., as shown by the above summary, is credited with 1,613,056 members, but including the other nine Presbyterian bodies the total Presbyterian membership in 1916 was 2,257,439. As shown on page 180 the twenty-one Lutheran bodies, as a whole, had a total membership of 2,463,265, of which 777,438 was reported for the Synodical Conference alone and 535,108 for the General Council.

The membership herewith reported for the Jewish Congregations requires some explanation. Some congregations reported as members all who contribute to the treasury of the congregation and not infrequently included women and children. The more orthodox, on the other hand, reported only those males who have incorporated the institution or have bought a share or membership in it, but do not recognize as members those who are regular attendants or are even contributors. The membership thus reported represents a total for 1916 of 359,998 persons, but this figure is not comparable with that given for 1906 (101,457), which then comprised heads of families only.

MINISTERS

The number of ministers listed in this report is the result of information secured from various authoritative sources, either from published reports or through correspondence with representatives of the several denominations. In general, they include only those who are duly authorized to administer the sacraments and to perform all of the usual functions of the ministry, whether or not in active service as pastors in charge of churches.

The whole number of ministers, as reported for the various denominations having regularly ordained ministers, was 191,722 in 1916, as compared with 164,830 in 1906, and 111,036 in 1890.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS

The statistics of Sunday schools for 1916 are given and include only those Sunday schools which are conducted by church organizations. They are derived, as before stated, from the returns for the individual churches in the various denominations.

Of the 228,007 church organizations for 1916, a report as to Sunday schools was made for 185,935, or 81.5 per cent. In 1906 there were 167,574 church organizations for which Sunday schools were reported, representing 79 per cent of the total number of church organizations covered by that census, namely, 212,230.

The whole number of Sunday schools reported by the 185,935 church organizations in 1916 was 195,276, with 1,959,918 officers and teachers and 19,951,675 scholars. The report for 1906 gave a total of 178,214 Sunday schools, with 1,648,664 officers and teachers and 14,685,997 scholars.

In addition to the Sunday schools conducted by church organizations, there are a large number of undenominational and union Sunday schools, and statistics of these Sunday schools were secured for 1916, as was the case in 1906, through the agency of the International Sunday School Association. The total number of undenominational and union Sunday schools thus reported for 1916 was 12,513, with 89,375 officers and teachers, and 618,156 scholars. The full strength of the Sunday schools of the country, both denominational and undenominational, for 1916 is represented by a total of 207,789 Sunday schools, with 2,049,293 officers and teachers and 20,569,831 scholars. The equivalent figures for 1906 were 192,722 Sunday schools, 1,746,074 officers and teachers, and 15,337,811 scholars.

NOTE.—The Gain Per Cent is given only when the data for 1917 exceeds that for 1916. The apparently large increase in operating expenses is due to the new form of the Annual Report Blanks, which include monies expended for several kinds of Association features not heretofore included in such reports, as dormitories, restaurants, miscellaneous items. The apparently large increase in the expense of supervision for State and Canadian Committees is due to the fact that several such committees reported for 1917 but did not report for 1916. The general tabular form of these summaries is similar to that used by the United States Government.

ITS NATURE AND SCOPE

The Federal Council held its first meeting at Philadelphia in 1908 and was largely the culmination of previous voluntary federative movements, the chief of which had been the Evangelical Alliance and the National Federation of Churches and Christian Workers. The important preliminary work leading up to the organization was accomplished by the Inter-Church Conference on Federation held in Carnegie Hall, New York City, in 1905, a body composed of official delegates from thirty denominations convened through the initiative of the National Federation of Churches and Christian Workers. This conference adopted the Constitution of the Federal Council and transmitted it to the various denominations with the understanding that approval by two thirds of them would give it full effect. This approval was secured early in 1908.

The difference between the Federal Council and the previous movements is that it is not an individual or voluntary agency, or simply an interdenominational fellowship, but is an officially and ecclesiastically constituted body.

It is differentiated from other general movements for the manifestation of Christian unity in the fact that it is the cooperation of the various denominations for service rather than an attempt to unite them upon definitions of theology and polity.

It does not interfere with the autonomy of these bodies and its Constitution specifically states that "The Federal Council shall have no authority over the constituent bodies adhering to it; but its province shall be limited to the expression of its counsel and the recommending of a course of action in matters of common interest to the churches, local councils, and individual Christians. It has no authority to draw up a common creed or form of government or of worship, or in any way to limit the full autonomy of the Christian bodies adhering to it."

The basis, scope, and limitations of the Council are indicated by the preamble to the Constitution, which reads as follows: "In the providence of God, the time has come when it seems fitting more fully to manifest the essential oneness of the Christian churches of America, in Jesus Christ as their Divine Lord and Savior, and to promote the spirit of fellowship, service, and cooperation among them."

1. The FEDERAL COUNCIL is thus constituted by thirty Protestant evangelical denominations, to express their common voice and unite them in cooperative activities.

It includes 142,671 local churches, with 18,620,136 members. Its constituent Bodies, with statistics, are as follows:

The Council itself consists of 400 members, elected by the thirty denominations, and it convenes every four years. The Executive Committee, consisting of official representatives of the constituent bodies, meets once a year, with additional special meetings. The Administrative Committee meets once a month.

At its NATIONAL OFFICES in New York, under the direction of the General Secretary, Executive and Field Secretaries and staff, the Council is engaged in the coordination of Christian forces in the interest of national and international Christian life. A Publication and Printing Department of considerable magnitude is maintained with adequate machinery for reaching the churches, and for the publication of volumes and pamphlets.

The National Offices maintain a staff of about fifty persons engaged in this united work.

A RELIGIOUS PUBLICITY BUREAU is now being developed.

The Council has local correspondents in every city of the United States, and has foreign correspondents connected with the Protestant churches of all the countries of the world.

In addition to the meetings of its own Committees and Commissions, the Council calls frequent representative conferences upon matters of common interest to all the churches.

2. At the office in WASHINGTON, D. C., affairs of national religious concern are considered by a resident committee and an Assistant Secretary, the work including such matters as chaplains in the Army and Navy, the religious census, the special work in the interest of the colored churches, federation in the Southern field, missionary affairs of national and international concern, and cooperation with the American Red Cross and Government Departments and Agencies. The annual Year Book of the Churches is published at this office.

3. The Commission on INTER-CHURCH FEDERATIONS is constantly engaged in the organization of local federations of churches and enlists the cooperation of several denominational and interdenominational organizations in this interest.

4. The HOME MISSIONS COUNCIL brings together the Home Mission Boards of the denominations in the interest of the effective distribution of Christian forces in Home Mission fields.

The Commission on Church and COUNTRY LIFE is furthering this great interest by securing cooperation between rural churches. It is now making State surveys.

5. A Committee on FOREIGN MISSIONS supplements the work of the Foreign Mission Boards in encouraging cooperation in all the various phases of federated foreign mission work.

6. The Commission on EVANGELISM, uniting the evangelistic committees of the various denominations, is endeavoring to bring about an adjustment of this important work so as to serve more fully, effectively, and permanently the interests of the churches through simultaneous and continuous evangelistic movements.

7. The Commission on Church and SOCIAL SERVICE expresses the Christian view of Social questions, coordinates the social service agencies of the denominations, holds religious labor mass meetings, is prosecuting a campaign for the conservation of human life, a temperance fellowship movement among workingmen, and a nation-wide campaign for one day in seven for industrial workers.

8. The Commission on INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE AND GOODWILL is conducting an educative campaign through textbooks and lesson-courses and other literature in churches, Sunday schools, men's classes and groups, and through cooperation with the World Alliance in relations with the Protestant churches of the various countries in Europe.

A Commission on RELATIONS WITH THE ORIENT is engaged in furthering goodwill in this important part of the world, has sent a Christian embassy to Japan, and is endeavoring to secure the adjustment of our relations upon the basis of justice and goodwill.

9. The Commission on CHRISTIAN EDUCATION secures the cooperation of the Boards of Education of the denominations in a united program with common literature. Special attention has been given to the problem of religious education in connection with the public school curricula. A textbook and two series of lessons on international peace have been published, and an important volume on the entire question of religious education.

10. The Commission on TEMPERANCE has united with the historic National Temperance Society, is publishing four temperance papers, one for adults, two for children, and one for workingmen, and is engaged in a nation-wide educational campaign, for which it is securing the cooperation of the church forces.

11. Special Committees survey, report, and present recommendations on such important matters of national concern as FAMILY LIFE AND RELIGIOUS REST DAY.

12. A nation-wide WAR RELIEF MOVEMENT, in which several of the leading organizations have cooperated, has been carried on among the churches and communities. Large sums of money have been secured and the Council has carried on this work without any cost for overhead administrative expenses.

13. The Council has secured financial assistance for the stricken CHURCHES AND MISSIONS IN EUROPE AND ASIA, more especially for the Belgian missions and the Huguenot churches in France AND FOR THE ARMENIANS.

14. In order to meet the special needs of the war, a GENERAL WAR-TIME COMMISSION OF THE CHURCHES has been appointed.

The war-time work conducted by the Council and its various departments and commissions, includes the following activities:

1. The uniting of the churches in war-time work;
2. Moral and spiritual care of the Army and Navy, including the appointment and equipment of chaplains;
3. A united temperance war-time movement;
4. Red Cross Campaign in the churches, and general war relief work;
5. The preservation of social standards during the war;
6. Protection of Army camps from vice;
7. Enlistment of ministers to serve as voluntary chaplains at home and abroad;
8. The assistance of churches in Belgium and France;
9. A movement to protect our Army abroad from vicious influences;
10. Constant cooperation with the Departments of War and Navy, the Committee on Public Information, and other Departments of the Government and national organizations.

The work of this Commission includes camp surveys, work in behalf of the chaplains, camp neighborhood service, welfare of the negro troops, work among interned aliens, provision for moral care of troops in France, war work of local churches, consideration of social and industrial conditions, and other similar activities called for by the exigencies of the war.

15. For particular needs as they appear, special movements are carried on from time to time, such as the United Ministerial Relief Fund, the Religious Campaign at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the American Peace Centenary Committee, the Quadri-Centennial of the Reformation, the American Huguenot Committee, the Committee on Christian Work in the Canal Zone, the Ministers' Institutes for Colored Ministers, the Annual Week of Prayer, and many similar movements uniting all the churches in great causes and upon common tasks.

The Council is incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia.

Full information may be obtained by securing the following volumes:

The Progress of Church Federation (50 cents).
The Churches of Christ in Time of War (50 cents).
The Manual of Interchurch Work (50 cents).
The Year Book of the Churches (50 cents).

PERMANENT COMMISSIONS

The following are the Permanent Commissions of the Federal Council, together with some description of their work:

COMMISSION ON INTER-CHURCH FEDERATIONS (State and Local)

ChairmanFred B. Smith

Executive Secretary.....Rev. Roy B. Guild

This Commission seeks, in every community having two or more churches, the development of some form of organization by which these churches can cooperate in doing for the religious, social, and civic welfare of the community what they cannot by working independently of each other.

It plans to do this by personal visitation, correspondence, and literature. It seeks to construct the machinery in the community through which the Commissions of the Federal Council can function and through which the churches can work with other organizations.

During the past year this Commission held a conference at Pittsburgh for the purpose of standardizing certain methods of work which have become successful features in the programs of many federations, or are in the period of testing. The eight reports carefully prepared by eight sub-commissions are now published in "The Manual of Inter-Church Work."

A special report of value to local churches, is printed separately—"War-Time Tasks of Every Church and Community."

There has been a steady increase in the formation of local federations which have secured executive secretaries. Because of the strategic importance of such a secretary in developing the religious life of a city the Committee on the Securing and Training of Executive Secretaries, of which Mr. Harry Wade Hicks is the Chairman, is planning to hold this year a summer training school for employed and prospective secretaries and ministers and laymen who are interested in this work. Mr. Fred B. Smith, the Chairman of the Commission, while retaining his present business relations, will give practically all his time to the promotion of this work.

COMMISSION ON EVANGELISM

ChairmanRev. Charles L. Goodell
Acting Executive Sec'y.....Rev. Asa J. Ferry

This Commission aims to be of assistance to the churches in promoting evangelism and by eliminating the objectionable features associated with irresponsible evangelism. Twenty denominations now have commissions on evangelism, cooperating to tell pastors where to secure dependable evangelistic help, to standardize the reports of results, and to develop the spirit and practice of personal and public soul-winning.

COMMISSION ON THE CHURCH AND SOCIAL SERVICE

ChairmanPresident Henry Churchill King
Executive Secretary.....Rev. Worth M. Tippy

The purpose of the Commission is to cooperate with similar church organizations in the study and improvement of social conditions; to encourage the organization of departments or commissions of social service in denominations not so organized; to cooperate with the denominational agencies in organizing local churches for neighborhood and community service; to assist departments of social service in community federations of churches; to cooperate in public welfare effort with national social movements and agencies, and with departments of the national and state governments; to labor to establish social justice, democratic institutions and a Christian international social order.

The following denominations have social service organizations with executive or field secretaries:

Baptist Churches, North: Department of Social Service and Brotherhood, Rev. Samuel Z. Batten, Secretary, 1701 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Congregational Churches: Social Service Commission, Rev. Henry A. Atkinson, 14 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

Methodist Episcopal Church: Federation for Social Service, Rev. Harry F. Ward, 72 Mt. Vernon Street, Boston, Mass.

Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.: Rev. Paul Moore Strayer, Chairman of the Social Service Commission, 4 Meigs Street, Rochester, N. Y.

Protestant Episcopal Church: Joint Commission on Social Service, Rev. Frank M. Crouch, Executive Secretary, The Church Missions House, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

Disciples of Christ: Commission on Social Service and the Country Church, Prof. Alva W. Taylor, Secretary, Bible College, Columbia, Mo.

These men, with the Executive Secretary of the Federal Council Commission, compose a Secretarial Council formed to secure harmony of action.

On February 15, 1917, the Commission reorganized with Rev. Worth M. Tippy as Executive Secretary.

There has been constant and increasing cooperation with national and social agencies and movements, and most significant and unusual relations with departments of the national government. The Federal Council's relations with the Red Cross since the opening of the war have been under the direction of the Commission and the Secretarial Council and arrangements have been completed with the Commissioner of Education in Washington for the organization of the churches for the Americanization of immigrants.

The Commission has been steadily at work on the preservation of industrial standards during the war, particularly labor standards, child welfare and the protection of the families of enlisted men.

The Executive Secretary organized the work of the General

Committee on Army and Navy Chaplains, was Executive Secretary of the first Committee of the Churches on War Work, and is still acting as secretary of the Committee on War-Time Work in the Local Church and cooperation with the American Red Cross and of the Committee on Interned Aliens and Prisoners of War—committees of the General War-Time Commission of the Churches. The General War-Time Commission has also requested the Social Service Commission to assume responsibility for organizing the churches to meet the social and religious needs of workers and their families who are congesting about war-time industries. An initial survey has been made and the findings reported to the joint meeting of the Home Missions Council and the Council of Women for Home Missions.

The Commission has also begun the organization of social service commissions in negro churches, aiming to reach local negro communities through their churches. Rev. R. R. Wright, Jr., has undertaken the task with the African Methodist Episcopal Church. Initial community work has been begun at Newark, New Jersey, and Philadelphia. Friends of negro welfare look upon this plan with favor and hopefulness. The Commission is not as yet far enough completed to be listed.

In addition to these important activities considerable attention has been given to the pamphlet literature of the Commission. With the assistance of Mr. Herbert N. Shenton, of Columbia University, this has been standardized and largely reissued.

Full information relative to the work undertaken, may be found in The Year Book of the Church and Social Service, and in the volume entitled: "Christian Cooperation and World Redemption."

COMMISSION ON THE CHURCH AND COUNTRY LIFE

Chairman Gifford Pinchot
Secretary Rev. Charles O. Gill
104 North Third Street, Columbus, O.

The Commission has assisted in the organization of a Rural Life Association in Ohio and a Committee of Interchurch Cooperation consisting of leading officials of eleven denominations, to investigate and report upon conditions of country life as affecting the churches. A survey has just been completed covering the country districts in Ohio, comprising an area of 40,000 square miles. Most substantial results have been achieved in the forwarding of the movement for conservation and improvement of the country churches and rural life in Ohio, including the awakening of a strong desire among the farmers for Christian cooperation in the small communities and a radical change in the program of many churches in a large area. The work of the Commission has already resulted in an important redirection of home missionary activities.

It is hoped that the work in Ohio will be repeated in other states, and that it will be followed by similar results. The work of the Commission is indicated in the volumes entitled, "The Country Church" and "The Church and Country Life."

NATIONAL TEMPERANCE SOCIETY AND COMMISSION ON TEMPERANCE

ChairmanHon. Carl E. Milliken
Chairman of Joint Exec. Com.....Rev. Rufus W. Miller
Acting Exec. Sec......Rev. Charles S. Macfarland

This Commission, now united with the oldest American temperance society, works with the denominational and other agencies, to promote personal abstinence from intoxicating beverages, by research, exhibits, photoplays, lantern slides, literature, and the creation of public sentiment to ensure proper legislation.

A "Strengthen America Campaign" under the direction of Rev. Charles Stelzle, is in progress, making large use of the daily press through the country.

An active part was taken in securing Congressional action favoring the Constitutional Prohibition Amendment.

Labor temperance mass meetings have been held in several cities.

The following periodicals covering temperance interests are published:

The National Advocate: A comprehensive temperance paper, designed primarily for use in churches and Sunday-schools. Published monthly. Price, $1.00 per year; special rates to pastors, clubs, and Sunday-school classes.

The Worker: For use among working men and of special interest to those concerned with the economic phases of the liquor problem. Published monthly. Price, 25 cents per year; greatly reduced rates in quantities.

The Youth's Temperance Banner: A "Youth's Companion" devoted to temperance stories and articles. Published monthly. Price, 30 cents per year; in clubs of ten or more to one address, 15 cents.

The Water Lily: A four-page monthly containing stories attractively illustrated; suited to children between five and ten years. Price, 15 cents per year; in clubs of ten or more to one address, 8 cents.

UNITED COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE WAR ACTIVITIES IN THE ARMY AND NAVY

(Cooperating Body)

The Army and Navy work of the Commission is done largely through this united Committee:

Chairman	Dr. Daniel A. Poling
Executive Secretary.....	Arthur E. Whitney
Vice-Chairman	Miss Anna A. Gordon
Secretary	Miss Cora F. Stoddard
Treasurer.....	Dr. D. Leigh Colvin
Chairman, Ways and Means Com....	Rev. Charles Stelzle

COMMISSION ON CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Chairman.....	Rev. B. S. Winchester
Secretary.....	Rev. Henry H. Meyer

This Commission assists in correlating the several agencies for religious education and works with them to give their findings to the people. Special attention has been paid to week-day and religious instruction and the correlation of churches with public schools in its prosecution.

Its work is set forth in the volume, "Cooperation in Christian Education."

COMMISSION ON INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE AND GOOD WILL

Chairman.....	Rev. W. H. P. Faunce
Secretary.....	Rev. Charles S. Macfarland
Secretary.....	Rev. Sidney L. Gulick

Four-week courses of study for adult classes have been provided on "A New Era in Human History"—and on "America and the Orient"—"Helps for Leaders" and packages of supplementary material have been prepared. Many important pamphlets on international relations are also available.

The activities of the World Alliance for International Friendship and of this Commission are identical. They have during the past year established a Joint Executive Committee.

The statement of the activities and results of the work of this Commission fills the two volumes entitled, "The Church and International Relations" of the six volume report of the Federal Council and the volume entitled, "The Fight for Peace."

WORLD ALLIANCE FOR PROMOTING INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP THROUGH THE CHURCHES

The Commission cooperates with the American Council of the World Alliance through a Joint Executive Committee, of which Rev. William P. Merrill is Chairman.

Secretary.....	Rev. Charles S. Macfarland
Advisory Secretary.....	Fletcher S. Brockman
Advisory Secretary.....	Rev. Sidney L. Gulick

This Commission was established in response to memorials from missionaries in Japan, "to rally the Christian forces of the United States for the solution of American Oriental problems in accord with the highest standards of Christian Statesmanship."

Its work is outlined in "The Church and International Relations—Japan," one of the six volumes in the Library of Christian Cooperation, and the volume "The Japanese Problem in the United States."

The coming to the United States of Japanese special commissioners and their remarkable reception, on the West coast as well as in the East, show that throughout the country a more sympathetic feeling toward Japan and her problems is apparent. While many factors have been at work, the contribution of this commission has been an important one.

GENERAL WAR-TIME COMMISSION OF THE CHURCHES

Chairman.....	Robert E. Speer
Vice-Chairman.....	Rt. Rev. William Lawrence
Secretary.....	Rev. William Adams Brown
Associate Secretary.....	Rev. Gaylord S. White
Assistant Secretary.....	Harold H. Tryon
" "	Rev. Samuel McCrea Cavert
" "	Eric M. North

This commission had its inception at a meeting of the Federal Council at Washington on May 8 and 9, 1917. The discussion at that meeting developed the fact that some representative commission would be needed to act on behalf of the churches in their effort to deal with the new problems raised by the war; and the Administrative Committee was authorized to take the necessary steps to bring this about.

The purpose of the new commission was defined as follows:

1. To coordinate existing and proposed activities and to bring them into intelligent and sympathetic relationship so as to avoid all waste and friction and to promote efficiency.
2. To suggest to the proper agency or agencies any further work called for and not being done.
3. To provide for or perform such work as can best be done in a cooperative way.
4. To furnish means of common and united expression when such is desired.

The spirit in which it approaches this task is expressed in the opening statement adopted by the commission at its first meeting—"The Commission will do its work in close cooperation with the existing agencies and commissions of the Federal Council, with the commissions or other war agencies in the various communions, and with the interdenominational agencies already at work. It will seek to serve them all as a clearing house of information and as an agency of sympathetic coordination. Its purpose is not to replace or duplicate, much less to check any activity directed toward dealing with the task which is too great for all the forces which can be brought to bear upon it. Its purpose is to support and strengthen all such influence in the fullest measure to the end that the churches may be able to render the largest service to the young men of the nation and to the nation itself in this great and critical time."

The work and its range may be seen from the list of committees:

Committee on Survey of the Field and Work, Joint Committee on Chaplains, General Committee on Army and Navy Chaplains, Committee on Equipment of Chaplains, Committee on Voluntary Chaplains, Committee on Camp Neighborhoods, Committee on Health and Moral Conditions, Committee on Industrial Conditions, Committee on the Welfare of Negro Troops, Committee on Interned Aliens, Committee on Investigation of Conditions in France, Committee on Conference with the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, Committee on War-Time Work in the Local Church and Cooperation with the American Red Cross, Committee on Conference with the War Camp Community Service, Committee on a Day of Penitence and Prayer, Committee on Literature and Publicity, Committee on a Church Flag, Committee on Finance, Special Committee to draft a Memorial to the President concerning National Prohibition as a War Measure.

The volumes entitled "The Churches of Christ in Time of War" and the "Progress of Church Federation" and the "Annual Report of the Federal Council for 1917" contain full reference to the work undertaken.

PERMANENT AND SPECIAL COMMITTEES

The following are the Permanent and Special Committees of the Council:

COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN MISSIONS

Chairman.....Rev. William I. Chamberlain

This committee works in cooperative relations with the Foreign Missions Conference of North America.

COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSIONS

Chairman.....Rev. John M. Moore

This committee establishes the relationship with the Home Missions Council.

HOME MISSIONS COUNCIL (Cooperating Body)
